

Roverway is an international Guides and Scouts camp for Rovers (aged 16 to 22) from all over Europe. The camp typically consists of two parts: the Paths, where the participants explore Switzerland in smaller groups of around 70 people, and a main camp. The last Roverway took place in Norway in 2024 and lasted eleven days. Approximately 5500 Guides and Scouts participated. The next Roverway is scheduled to take place in Switzerland in 2028. That is why we are looking for a:

Department Lead Campsite

Do you want to play a key role in shaping Roverway, do you enjoy bringing different needs together and turning a field into a functioning campsite for 6,000 Scouts? Then this job is exactly right for you!

As Department Lead Campsite, together with your Co-Department Lead and your crew, you are responsible for the campsite. You develop the site plan and take into account the needs of the participants as well as the requirements of the various Divisions and Departments. This includes, among other things, dividing up the areas, placing important zones and planning the routes across the campsite. The department is part of the Division Logistic.

What you can expect:

- 1 meeting per month with your Division Leads
- approx. 4h of voluntary work per week
- close collaboration with your Co-Department Lead and your crew
- opportunity to contribute and further develop your know-how
- collaboration with international contacts
- expansion of your network at national and international level
- helping make an international Scout experience possible for approx. 5,000 participants and approx. 1,000 volunteers

What you bring:

- time, interest and motivation for a multi-year commitment
- drive to design and shape things (!)
- skills and experience in site planning are an advantage, but not required
- ability to keep an overview of a project
- experience in drawing CAD plans is an advantage, but not required
- good English skills and/or skills in another national language
