Roverway is an international Guides and Scouts camp for Rovers (aged 16 to 22) from all over Europe. The camp typically consists of two parts: the Paths, where the participants explore Switzerland in smaller groups of around 70 people, and a main camp. The last Roverway took place in Norway in 2024 and lasted eleven days. Approximately 5500 Guides and Scouts participated. The next Roverway is scheduled to take place in Switzerland in 2028. That is why we are looking for a:

Workforce Planning & Role Design Manager

As Workforce Planning & Role Design Manager, you help ensure that Roverway has the right roles and enough people with the required capabilities and realistic capacity at the right time. You maintain an organisation-wide view of staffing, skills and capacity needs, make critical vacancies and People risks visible early, and ensure that roles are clearly and purposefully designed. You coordinate the Workforce & Capacity Plan, the People Dashboard & Risk Register, and standards and tools for role design, recruitment, selection and matching. Together with the leads of all divisions, you support fair and reliable staffing without taking over their specialist staffing or leadership responsibilities.

As a Workforce Planning & Role Design Manager, you are part of the People Development & Workforce Department within the People Division.

What you can expect:

- A monthly meeting with your division
- Approx. 4h of volunteer work per week
- The opportunity to contribute your expertise and develop your skills
- Collaboration with international contacts (including within your division crew)
- Expansion of your network at the national and international levels
- Helping to create an international Guiding and Scouting experience for approx. 5000 participants and approx. 1000 volunteers

What you bring to table:

- Time, enthusiams, and motivation for a multi-year commitment
- A drive to create and contribute
- Experience in team leadership, team development, coaching, supporting groups or organising team activities is an asset
- Enjoy supporting people and fostering a positive and inclusive team culture
- Empathy and the ability to understand the needs of different people
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills
- Ability to maintain an overview of a project
- Good English skills and/or proficiency in another national language

Do you still have questions?

Feel free to contact us if anything is unclear, if you have any questions, or if you'd just like to have a casual conversation without any obligation. We look forward to hearing from you and learning about your ideas.
